Ethical Investors awarded Fair Tax Mark

4 July 2018

Ethical Investors are pleased to announce that they have joined a growing list of organisations to achieve the Fair Tax Mark, putting them alongside AMT Coffee, Lush, The Co-op, Ecology Building Society, Richer Sounds, Timpson and SSE.

Paul Monaghan, Chief Executive, Fair Tax Mark said: "We are delighted to announce the certification of Ethical Investors during the UK's first Fair Tax Fortnight. The company has an outstanding approach to fairness and transparency, and have delivered over and above what we require to achieve the Fair Tax Mark.

"Too often, tax makes the headlines for all the wrong reasons. There is an almost daily stream of stories of evasion and aggressive avoidance - which not only distort our economy but also undermine the opportunity for business to compete fairly. It is estimated that €600bn of corporate profits are annually shifted to tax havens, with corporate tax revenue losses globally of €200bn per year - which equates to approximately £7bn of missing revenues in the UK.

"Fair Tax Fortnight aims to celebrate businesses like Ethical Investors that seek to do the right thing and is proud to pay its fair share of corporation tax, and who overtly shuns the artificial use of tax havens and contrived tax avoidance practices."

Ethical Investors was established in 1989 to provide financial planning advice to all those who wish to apply their personal social, ethical, environmental or religious values to their financial arrangements.

In becoming a Fair Tax Mark business, Ethical Investors further boosts the number of Fair Tax opportunities for consumers across the UK, which includes supermarkets, banking, phone and broadband provision, coffee, travel services and pharmacies. You can find these businesses on the Fair Tax Mark Map which enables you to opt for companies paying their fair share.

Lee Coates OBE, Managing Director of Ethical Investors, said: "We are so pleased to have obtained such a high score in achieving the Fair Tax Mark. Our company has campaigned for openness and transparency from business for nearly 30 years and in the area of company taxation we are pleased to be recognised by Fair Tax for our own transparency and openness. We will be displaying our Fair Tax Mark with pride."
